ment.—Other News.

Two strangers, brothers, who started to cross over from the Louisville to the St. Louis train at the union depot at noon and were both pretty full, had a fight, in which one was struck a mighty blow in the right eye, which brought the blood out in spurts and fixed it in a splendid condition to get black. The men then boarded the train and left.

Dr. A. S. Dabney lost the finest cow in the county night before last.
At any rate he says she was the finest, being worth $100. She was an imported Holstein-Jersey, and died of milk fever.

Contractor Pat Halloran left this morning for Central City to meet his oldest sister, Mrs. Catherine Stuck-ney, of Bowling Green, who is here on a visit to her sister, Miss Mary Halloran. It is Mrs. Stuckney's first visit for twelve years. Her husband is now a government engineer in charge of Green River.

Judge D. L. Sanders, Jailer Joe Miller, Col. George Ditzel and Mr.
Chas. Leake left this morning for Squire Ware's country home, below Grahamsville, to attend a big reunion and barbecue tendered the tobacco men at that place. They will spend the day, and it is safe to predict will enjoy the hospitality that is sure to be extended them.

The next attraction at Morton's opera house will be Ole

The ladies of the Catholic church are preparing to give a big Thanksgiving supper next Wednesday night in some building on Broadway, probably at Raso's old stand.

Dr. J. T. Reddick, one of the newly elected school trustees, whose friends desire to see him President of the board, has declined to allow his name to go before the board for that honorable position. The doctor says he feels that his professional duties would handicap him in the discharge of his duties as President, and hence declines.

Mr. R. G. Terrell, who has for years been treasurer, is now mentioned as a probable nominee, but the board could ill-afford to lose him as a treasurer.

Judge W. D. Greer returned this morning from Murray, where he won a case in the circuit court now in session there. The style of the suit was Grogan Craig, adm'r., of Dr. John I. Grogan, against the Connecticut Indemnity Insurance company for $2,000 on a life policy.
The plaintiff won the case.

One of the several $10,000 damage suits against the N. C. & St. L. railroad which resulted from the dynamite explosion last spring in which seven colored men were killed, is now on trial.

The remains of George Winston are still at Nance's undertaking establishment, and have been embalmed.
They will not be buried today, and may be kept for sometime. People have flocked there today to see them.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY.

The Ladies Mite Society, of the Baptist Church, celebrates.

The silver anniversary of the Mite Society, of the First Baptist church, held at the residence of Mrs. J. R.
Puryear yesterday afternoon, was a most enjoyable event, and was attended by a large number of members, ex-members, and invited guests.
The society in honor of its twenty-fifth anniversary, was presented with a silver coin of some description by each who attended, and quite a neat sum was in this manner netted. Refreshments were served, and a recognition that seemed to do all good was the principal feature of the celebration.

COMING IN CARLOADS.

Big Shipments Received by the Kentucky Glass and Queensware Company.

The Kentucky Glass and Queensware Co., is preparing for the holiday trade in great style. They have just received a carload of lamps, a carload of queensware and on the road is a carload of lamps and goblets. This enterprising firm is bent on keeping in front. They buy their goods by the carload and by means of their big purchases they can sell at lower prices than all competitors. Their goods are first class only. Look out for their big bargains for the holiday trade.

NEWS OF THE COURTS.

The United States Court Adjourns This Afternoon After a Session of Much Business.

In the Circuit Court the Illinois Central Wins the Big Damage Suit.—Other News of the Various Courts.

U. S. COURT.

The two suits for $25,000 each of Choate and Riddle, administrators of the estate of Wm. Eades and James Hollifield, against the Illinois Central railroad, were decided in the United States court this afternoon about 1 o'clock, the jury returning a verdict for the defendant, the Illinois Central. This will probably end the case, an attorney for the plaintiff stating that it would go no further.

Eades and Hollifield were well known young men of near Pryorburg, Graves county, who had been to Maryland to learn the result of a primary election last Spring. Driving home after midnight they were struck by the I. C. "cannon-ball" and instantly killed.

The principal allegations on the respective sides were, for the plaintiffs, that the engineer did not blow the whistle nor have the bell rung, before the crossing was reached, while the defense denied this and claimed that the two victims were drunk.

The interesting part is that several farmers and others residing in the vicinity of the tragedy swore that no whistle was blown on that particular night, one man claiming that he knew it to be a fact, because he was up looking after some cattle that had been lighting.

On the contrary, however, Engi-ner Mercer swore positively that the whistle was blown and the bell rung, and was corroborated by the fireman.
He said when he saw the horse, it was running as rapidly as it could go, and he thought it was only a loose horse. He did not see the buggy.

After he struck it he stopped the train and went out to make an examination. He found some spokes and other parts of a buggy in the pilot of the engine, and the bodies were found some distance back, having been hurled thirty yards by the tremendous blow of the engine.

The lively man testified that Eades and Hollifield, when they left his stable to go home, were drinking, and had a jug. He put it in the buggy for them, after taking a drink. He created some amusement in court when he said he remembered telling them that it was the biggest jug he ever saw to have so little whiskey.

Federal Court, having wound up its business, adjourned this afternoon, and the officers left at 2:45 for Louisville.

United States Marshal A. D. James and family, who were guests of Rev.
W. K. Penrod and family, made themselves very popular while here.
Marshal James is one of the most popular officers in the service, and has made many friends here.

POLICE COURT.
It was nothing but the inordinate verandah of David Nelson, of Caldwell county, that saved him from being mugged into a fine in police court this morning.

David's life and experience have been limited to that of rural vicartudes. He came down yesterday, and, after transacting his business, started home last night. He may have taken a "dram" too many.
When he got into the Union Depot supply room the colored watchman asked him out. He thought the man wanted to rob him, he said, and picked up a monkey wrench to object with. The watchman decamped and returned with two officers, and the old fellow and his monkey wrench succeeded in making things quite lively for them, also, for a time. He thought they, too, desired to rob him.

"Yes, I reckon I am kinder green, Jedge," he admitted, "and I didn't know no better, bein' as I am so green." He was released.

Susan Ford and George Mitchell were tried for a breach of the peace, and Ford was fined $10 and costs.

Notice to Shippers.

pany is now prepared to handle all nois Central and Yazoo and Mississippi Valley stations, Arkansas,

QUARANTINES ALL RAISED.

The Yellow Fever Scare is Over in New Orleans.—More Toll Gates in Jessamine
County Gone.

Chance For a Lynching in Newport if Greer, One of Mrs.
Gleason's Assassins,
Is not Hanged.

New Orleans, Nov. 20.—Every quarantine has been raised and the yellow fever fright is over. Business is resuming its natural channels.

Princeton is Favorite.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 20.— Big odds are being offered on the Princeton-Yale football game today.

All Gone.

Nicholasville, Ky., Nov. 20.— Every toll gate remaining in this county was destroyed last night.

A Possible Lynching.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 20.—It is believed that Greer, the second of Mrs.
Gleason's assassins to be tried, will escape hanging. If he does he will be lynched.

BRANN CAUSES DEATH.

Three Corners Duel Over the Mobbing of Iconoclast.

Waco, Tex., Nov. 20.—J. W.
Harris, the editor of the Waco Times-Herald, a morning paper, and W. A. Harris, his brother, on one side, and Judge G. B. Gerald, a prominent citizen, fought a duel to the death on the street last night at 5 o'clock. W. A. Harris was shot dead, J. W. Harris was wounded fac-tally, his body being paralyzed, and Gerald shot in the side and may die.
The trouble was the outcome of mobbing W. C. Brann, publisher of the Iconoclast.

POSTOFFICE BURNS.

Other Buildings in Pineville
Also Destroyed.

Pineville, Ky., Nov. 20.—The postoffice building, owned by Capt.
A. A. Edwards, postmaster at this place, and in which the postoffice is being kept, was destroyed by fire at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Most all the fixtures and papers belonging to the postoffice were saved.
The loss will reach $6,000.

TRAGIC DEATH

Of Wiley Parks' Five-Year-Old Boy.

Killed in Marshall County By a Runaway Horse.

Carlton Parks, the 5-year-old son of Mr. Wiley Parks, of Oak Level, Marshall county, was killed yesterday afternoon near home by a runaway horse.

The boy asked permission to ride horseback while his father was leading a horse, harness on, from a neighbor's. The horse became frightened, ran away, and the lad was entangled in the harness and dragged. His skull was fractured, a leg broken, and his abdomen torn open by the animal's hoof.

PETTY BURGLARS.

Attempt Made to Break Into Engineer Winfrey's.

Mrs. Winfrey Shot at the Would-
Be Burglars.

Paducah seems to be infested with petty burglars again. Night before last Dr. C. E. Whitesides' residence was broken into, and a quantity of silverware was stolen, and last night they attempted to gain entrance to engineer Al Winfrey's residence on West Broadway. Mrs. Winfrey was awakened by hearing a nail, which was dislodged by the thief in raising the window, fall to the floor, and ran to the casement with a pistol, firing two shots at the fleeing intruder.

DISGUSTED DEMOCRATS.

Talk of Holding a Mass Meeting to Protest Against the Caucus.

There is Discontent Not Only in the Party, But in the Council itself.

Democratic discontent has seemingly developed into democratic dis-session, and a movement is now on foot among disgruntled democrats to hold a mass meeting in the near future for the purpose of denouncing to the action of the recent council caucus. This mass meeting now seems probable. Democrats do not like caucuses in the first place, especially those where, it is alleged, relatives, old cronies, intimate friends and others, are boosted into office irrespective of politics, qualification, reputation, or anything else.

The three score or more candidates who were turned down by this new council in a star chamber caucus at the county court house don't like this sort of business, and many of them have come to the conclusion that now is as good a time to say so as any. They also have a few friends who will stick to them.

If a meeting is held it will be simply to request the council to ignore the proceedings and nominees of the late lamented caucus, and for the sake of the party to elect the city officers at the proper time next month.
Should the meeting materialize it might at least boast of an attendance of a hundred or more whilom candidates and their friends.

But not only is there an ominous discontent among the rank and file, on account of the defeat of some of the candidates, and the resentment of the many candidates' relatives and friends, but right in the midst of the council itself, it is said, there is a growing dissatisfaction among the members, who have seen some of their pet candidates go down in defeat, and do not think it should have been so.

And really, it is hinted that there are three of the nominees who are not the choice of the council, but rather of the mayor.

It is said that in the race for license inspector the vote stood six to six, Messrs. John O'Brien and P.
D. Jarvis being the contestants. Mayor-elect Lang is credited with voting for Mr. Jarvis, and thus turning down Mr. O'Brien, one of Paducah's best known and oldest citizens and Democrats, who has perhaps paid as much taxes as any other man in Paducah during his residence here.
Mr. Jarvis is no doubt a worthy gentleman, but who ever heard of him before?

Somebody has also said that when the final vote for city weigher was taken, there were six votes for Mr.
Thos. Baird and six for Mr. Ford Williams. Mr. Lang is also given the credit of having cast the vote that elected Mr. Williams.

There is also some other office that was filled by the vote of Mayor elect Lang, it is said, but which one it was could not be ascertained.

A reporter called on Dr. Lang this morning and asked him how many of the nominees he was responsible for, and he laughingly declined to answer the question, saying that the council-elect had been sworn to secrecy in everything but the result of the caucus.

And so it goes. Some of the councilmen are mad, some of the defeated candidates are mad, and there is every indication of a "hot old time" some of these days.

One candidate was heard to say,
"I don't mind being beat by a respectable man, but I don't relish the idea of being knocked out by a bum or a drunkard, or anything like that."

But the Sixes do not desire to reflect on any one of the nominees of the worthy council-elect. The people know those who have been nominated. If the council-elect and the Democratic party are satisfied, there is no reason why the Sixes should not be. The trouble is, neither the council-elect nor the Democratic party is exactly pleased, and this is one reason why some of the best Democrats of the city are talking of protesting against the recent caucus, and asking their representatives-elect to reconsider their action and choose officers at a regular meeting of the council, open and above board, where relationship, friendship, political split and vindictiveness shall not exist, and the selections shall be made in accordance with the respective capabilities and moral character of the various candidates. The people of Paducah do not believe in making a public trust a private snip.

DIFFERENT THINGS.
If you're a ladies' man to buy, there's none to beat this for a quarter.
We've a stock of capes and jackets here that is up to date in every par-honest, reliable garments at lower prices than you pay elsewhere. Great values are offered for this week. Don't miss your share of them. Capes at this size and $1.50 that are all right for cheap price, but the style is lacking.

But here are the handsome capes in the market to be found, for only $3.25, $4.50 and $5.00 a garment.

The many capes and jackets to be had here for $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $12.00 and $15.00 a garment are just the kind that you will appreciate; worthy materials throughout, and the stamp of style on every garment.

DIKE CRUXION, one of the assailants of Mrs. Gleason, at Newport, a few weeks ago, gets off with twenty years. It is just such verdicts as that that call for lynch law to play. Death is the only adequate punishment for that scoundrel's crime.

The Republics of Ohio will have fifteen majority on joint session when the legislature meets. Every day sees the failure of some scheme to defeat the re-election of Senator Hanna, and his return is simply a question of counting the votes.

At the recent election in Ohio, Bushnell, Republican candidate for Governor, received 429,816 votes, while Chapman, his Democratic opponent, received 401,715. Last year McKinley received 525,991 votes and Bryan 491,882. The Republican plurality this year was 28,101 and last year 51,109, and nearly 175,000 votes less cast this year. With a full vote McKinley's plurality would have been equalled this year.

The poor old Register puts itself on the back this morning and congratulates itself that it "scooped" the evening papers on Winston's "last night." As that "last night" came after the evening papers had gone to press, we can stand the "scoop." We wish, however, to congratulate the Register on having that bit of news in its issue yesterday. It is so seldom that that sheet gets anything ahead of the Six that such "enterprise" is noticeable. The Register would be careful, however, for such "strokes" are likely to cause its few readers to expect a continuation of such energy, and that is where they get left.

The record of Bryan's late three days' tour in Ohio is interesting and shows what a mistake Senator Hanna made in not engaging Bryan for the campaign. Mr. Bryan began in Williams county, and the Republican gain there was 455; he then went to Deafness, where the Republican gain is reported as 890; then to Paulding, where the Democratic gain was 63. On the second day he started in Knox county, where the Republican gain was 191; at Perry, where he spoke, there was a Republican gain of 76. His third day's tour resulted in a net Republican gain of 315. The Republicans figure that Mr. Bryan's three days' tour made a Republican gain of 1,633, or an average of 540 per day.

BRYAN says we will go upon a silver basis without the aid or consent of any other nation. That is that we will attempt a financial revolution knowing that nearly every other civilized nation will oppose our action. The statistics of our exports show that, even with our new tariff, our manufacturers' exports are increasing. Our exports of breadstuffs is increasing very heavily. Our purchasers are gold standard countries. England is by far our heaviest buyer. All our profitable markets are gold countries. Silver countries furnish but a poor and trivial market. We sell for gold. The better the gold the better the price we get. We also buy of gold countries. Experience has told us that in gold countries we get the best goods and make the best bargains. And yet with such a commercial relationship it is claimed by the silverites that we have no business to consult any other nation in fixing upon our standard of currency.

Those alleged reformers who propose to "revise" our election laws under the disinterested guidance of such papers as the Louisville Dispatch are extracting some comfort out of the fact that the Republican press is not enthusiastic over the proposed reform. If the coming legislature can really reform the ballot, it can pass a law which will make an election fairer and eliminate opportunities for fraud, we will hail the measure with unfeigned joy. But the object of the now much talked of ballot reform is to disfranchise the negro; to gloss it over as much as they will; to pretend as much as they can about honest elections and a fair ballot, the one fact remains that the subject of their reform is to lessen the Republican vote, is possible. Any real and genuine reform the Republicans will approve, but such a clumsily disguised partisan measure will of course be opposed.

The press dispatches contain accounts of the disintegration of the national committee of the A. P. A. It has shut up shop and this sheriff has sold out its effects under the hammer. We expected as much, but it came earlier than we thought it would. An organization made up of such elements as contained in the A. P. A. could never exist, as its membership was made up of broken down politicians who were out for office; narrow minded bigots who are out of place in a free country, and prejudiced religiousists whose narrow mindedness rendered them incapable of enjoying the privileges of a liberal country, where the fundamental principle of the government is the privilege of serving God according to the dictates of one's own conscience, or not serving him at all, if one sees proper. May the experience that has been gone through be a lesson that will be remembered for several generations. Unquestionably this is the beginning of the end, and a few short months will serve to obliterate every vestige of this un-American organization from the country, and may its like never intrude itself upon our great country again. Let us all live in unity, profit by the experience of ages and grant to every citizen the privileges promulgated and granted by our Constitution that were so zealously guarded by that noble body of great men, the framers thereof.

It seems most likely that President McKinley is about to accomplish by diplomacy all that could possibly be accomplished by a war with Spain. This country does not desire the annexation of Cuba, and it will not be brought about only as a final means to secure to the Cubans some humane form of government. But Spain is rapidly acquiescing in the real demands of the United States. Stewart L. Woodford, our minister to Spain, is not only a most polished gentleman, but is a skilled and shrewd diplomat. When his appointment was made it was said that McKinley expected him to end the Cuban war and settle the whole question, and to do so by diplomacy. That success is attending his and President McKinley's efforts there is no doubt. The crew of the Commodore has been released, and one standing case held has been happily removed. General Weyler, the most hated of all Spaniards by Americans, has been recalled; and by this act America was put in an amicable mood. General Blanco, Weyler's successor, has countermanded some of Weyler's most inhuman orders and shows that humanity and generosity are virtues not unknown to a Spaniard. Meanwhile Minister Woodford is becoming very popular in Spain, and is creating a friendly feeling in Spain toward the United States. In fact, much has been accomplished. A peaceful settlement is not only now possible, but is quite probable. President McKinley will uphold the dignity of this country, but he will not forget our duty to Cuba.

Society & Gossip.

VANITY FAIR.

Masques and dances, dinners and teas.
Musicales, operas, plays;
Gossip and gallantry, ways of ease,
Folly fraught nights and days;
Cups of pleasure, full to the brims,
And never a cup of care.
Fads and fancies, hobbies and whims—
This is Vanity Fair.
Booths and buyers, and belles and beaux.
Humble purchased and sold;
Rings and rubies, ribbon and rose,
Gold, and the greed of gold;
Leaders of fashion, crimped and curled, Debutantes debonair;
Calm and cynical men of the world—
This is Vanity Fair.
Puffs and powder, and pearls and paint,
Suppers, and smiles and frowns;
Here a simper, and there a snarl, (But both in expensive gowns!)
Flowers and feathers, and fans and frill, Glamour and gloss and glare.
Oh! And a host of unpaid bills—
This is Vanity Fair.

But the strangest thing in this market place
Of trinket and trawl toy,
Is watching the throng, the sorrowful face
Of a timid and tearful boy.
With how and arrow in disarray,
Poor little love, beware!
How did you come to lose your way—
This is Vanity Fair!

Paducah can always boast of having a bevy of charming girls in her midst. In addition to those who elude as her own, there are a number of attractive visitors here at the present time, and if reports are true there will be many more before the holiday festivities. Numbered among the fair visitors to be the Misses Richardson, of Louisville, who are to visit Miss Martha Leach next month.

Though the Autumn winds are fresh, they do not dissipate the fragrance of orange blossoms in the air heralding the many weddings for which the sweet-scented flowers will be called to deck the fair brow of more than one of the fairest society girls, before the opening of gentle Spring.

Since the days of "age and long youth" it has been decided that the race should give place to the yet belated and, as the pretty girls develop into handsome matrons, the debutante, whose hands are laden with life's best gift, peeps through rose tinted glasses with wistful eyes, but hopeful into the coming future, takes a step across the threshold of blossoming womanhood and into the magic land of society.

Women who are never satisfied with the color of their hair will no doubt be glad to learn that powdered hair is again to be in vogue. Not for daily wear, however, but for formal and for dressy functions. The effect is one that all women have always liked to emulate, and its reappearance now, together with a host of other reveals, will be hailed with delight. Patches of court-plasters are, of course, the natural accompaniment of powdered hair, and they have not been forgotten. The woman whose white locks are piled so prettily on top of her head plans a pretty contrast by setting half a dozen little black patches on her cheeks and brow. The effect is still further helped out if she chances to have dark eyes and eyebrows that are slender, dark curves.

The evening event of the next week will be the Thanksgiving dinner to be given by the society young men to their young lady friends, on Thursday evening at the Palmer House.

The Goshute Club was entertained most delightfully Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Cook. The game was highly interesting, but the real climax of the afternoon's enjoyment was reached when, all warning elements were cast aside and the guests partook of the fashionable viands, so tastefully served. Mrs. Geo. C. Wallace became happy possessor of first prize, Miss Mary Burnett winning second.

The Enclave Club will meet Wednesday week with Mrs. George Thompson on Broadway.

One of the largest and most delightful meetings of the Young Ladies' Marine Quince Club was held Thursday afternoon at the Palmer. The pastor of the hotel was artistically arranged with potted plants and cut flowers, and a three course luncheon was served. To Mrs. T. D. Wilson the visitor's prize was awarded, the club prize falling to Miss Mary Bassett. The visitors present were Misses Reed, Humble, Adams, Cook, Rivers, Cook, Winchester, Mesdames Wilcox, Gregory, Clements, Thompson, Campbell, Hellmuth.

The Duphane Whist Club meets Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. John P. Campbell at the Palmer House.

The As You Like It Club will be entertained by Mrs. Moscoe Burnett with a Red Ponche Tuesday evening. The As You Like It Club is one of the most recherche clubs in all Paducah, and the entertainments are of the smartest and most unique.

A brilliant event of the coming week will be a Ball Pomme, given on Tuesday evening, by Mr. Moscoe Burnett at her handsome colonial home on West Broadway, in company with Miss Susan Sured of Henderson, who will arrive in the city Monday as a guest of Mrs. Burnett.

The meeting of the Enclave club Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. R. Woodland was a thoroughly enjoyable one.

The pretty home of Mrs. Bradshaw was profusely ornamented with roses for the occasion, and a faultless Thanksgiving luncheon was served. In addition to the club members, several guests enjoyed the hospitality extended. The prizes were won by Mrs. C. M. Mosquit and Mrs. Moscoe Burnett.

One of the prettiest mid-day functions of the week was the luncheon given Tuesday afternoon by Miss Martha Leach to a small number of her young lady friends.

Mrs. Edwin Allen Rivers entertained a few friends at luncheon Wednesday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Thompson, in honor of Miss Genevieve Cook, of Fulton, guest of Mrs. Lloyd Howell.

The German given Wednesday evening by a number of society men at the Palmer House was a delightfully informal one. The ladies were led by Mr. Roy Culley, dancing with Miss Mary Bassett. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson chaperoned the merry party. The participants were: Misses Genevieve Cook, of Fulton, Margaret Tucker, of Memphis, Adams, of Danville, May Terrell, Martha Leach, Mary Bassett, Mary Burnett, Elsie Davis, Jamie Rivers, Corde Grady, Elizabeth Segenfelder, Rose McLaughlin, Madeline John P. Campbell, Walter Johnson, George Flournoy, King Brooks, Ed Rivers, Henry Thompson; Messrs. Morris Nash, Harry Gilbert, House Harris, Ivan Cobb, Fred McLaughlin, Harry Tandy, Henry Powell, Walter Johnson, Will Farley, Dr. George Fiddymont, Hewitt, James Brooks, Albert Foster, Roy Culley, Ale Well, Harris Rankin, and Wallace Well.

It is no longer necessary to spend what the styles will in for this winter, as the cold days have revealed many stylish and attractive creations that have been the all absorbing topic of many women for some time past. Hats, gowns and wraps, and all the smaller accessories of feminine attire are here to assert their own rights and speak for themselves.

Mrs. Charles Reed, together with her daughter, Miss Emma, and Miss Elizabeth Segenfelder, leave next week on a short trip to St. Louis.

Major J. H. Ashcraft has returned from his Tennessee river.

Mr. Walter Johnson left the city Friday on a short drumming tour.

Miss Elizabeth Sinnott did not go to Evansville last week, as stated, on account of illness.

Miss Jeanette Campbell will spend the winter in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Richard Roddy has returned from a hunting trip down in Ballard county.

Miss Margaret Tucker left Thursday for Mayfield, after a several weeks' visit to Mrs. George Flournoy.

Miss Susan Sured, of Henderson, Ky., will arrive in the city Monday, on a visit to Mrs. Moscoe Burnett.

Miss Adah Thompson will have as her guest Miss Eliza Garrett, of Pembroke, Ky., in a few days.

Mrs. George Flournoy left Thursday for Mayfield.

Miss Carrie Wallace returned Monday from a brief trip to St. Louis.

Mrs. Richard Woodfolk and son are visiting relatives at Mayfield.

Miss Jesse Nash returned last week from a visit to Louisville.

Miss Carrie Riecke is visiting Mrs. James H. Black, in Terre Haute, Ind.

Mrs. Mai Rawls, of Evansville, Ind., is being given a hearty welcome by her many Paducah friends.

Piano Sale.
We have come to the conclusion that we will close out our stock of Pianos and Organs at 430 Broadway—Kimball Co.'s, stock.
These goods must be sold within the next two weeks. We would rather dispose of them at lower prices than to ship them. When we offer you a Kimball piano we offer you a piano that is first class. The proof of this is that they are in some of the best families in America, and are used by the best artists in the world, from Mme. Patti, Lillian Norda, Emma Eames, Emma Calve, John Philip Sousa, Cias, Kunkel, and scores of others. These people say there are no better pianos made. These people should know, and do know, what goes to make up a first-class piano, and the best proof to you is that these people own a Kimball and use them in their own homes. Call and examine them for yourself. We say now is your golden opportunity to purchase a first-class piano at a bargain. This sale opens on Monday, November 22.

Corner-Stone at the New School Building Laid.

Judge Thompson Tendered An Informal Reception Last Night.

The laying of the corner stone of the new school building yesterday afternoon was very impressive. A large crowd was present, and the ceremonies were entertaining as well as instructive.
Grand Master R. H. Thompson, of Louisville, directed the Masonic rites, and Rev. W. K. Penrod made an address which was duly appreciated.
The building, designed by Architect B. B. Davis, is to be the finest in Southwestern Kentucky.
Last night Judge Thompson was tendered an informal reception at Masonic hall, and made a splendid address, telling of the benefits of the Masonic Home. His remarks made such an impression that a committee was appointed to arrange for an excursion to Louisville to see the Home, Revs. Puckerton, Penrod and others were admitted.

How long have you been coughing—

A Graves County Man Never on a Train Until Yesterday.

1845 Years Old and Has Lived Near the Track all His Life.

Frank Richards, of near Pryorsburg, Graves county, who is attending United States court here, is not a remarkable man, which one might judge from his appearance. But he boasts of the remarkable record of having lived forty-five years within thirty yards of a railroad, and never having been on a train in his life until yesterday, when he bought a round trip ticket to Paducah. Furthermore he was never more than ten miles from home until yesterday, when he broke his unprecedented record and came to Paducah. He declared he would never have gotten that far away from his family if he hadn't been compelled by Uncle Sam's minions to do so.

Richards was born and reared near Pryorsburg, and has spent his forty-five years of life within thirty yards of what is now the Illinois Central railroad, and although ever since a child he has seen and heard the trains pass his home every day, he was never on one until yesterday. He was never farther from home than Mayfield, eight miles away.

Richards proved a very important witness in the two big damage suits against the railroad company, however, in the case of manufacturers for $25,000 each against the company for the death of Wm. Eales and James Holliday. Other witnesses aware that they did not hear the engineer whistle nor the engine bell ring, at the crossing on the night the two men were killed. Richards, however, swore that he was up attending to some cattle, and that neither the bell nor the whistle sounded. The engineer was just as positive in his oath that he did blow the whistle, and if the jury believes Richards, it may cost the company several thousand dollars, while if they do not, it will cost the plaintiffs what they might get were Richards believed. Hence the evidence of this eccentric character may cut a prominent figure in the way the big damage suit is decided.

THE FUTURE OF SILVER.

It has Outlived Its Usefulness as Full Money Metal.

It must be admitted on all hands that the future of silver looks very dark. The price is now so low that the metal in silver dollar is worth only 43 cents. Yet the mints in this country and Mexico continue their activity. In most of them the ore is galena silver, and the recent rise in the price of lead compensates largely for the fall in the other metal. Indeed there are many mines where it pays to mine and smelt the ore for the lead alone, so that whatever is obtained for the silver is clear profit. Thus there seems to be no probability that there will be a rise in the price of silver occasioned by a heavy falling off in the total production.

In the mean time there appears to be not the slightest probability of an increase in price growing out of a larger use of silver as money. The states of the Latin union are so porged with the franc piece that even an artificial rise is impossible to force any more into circulation. In this country only about Money is loaned at one and two per cent. interest in New York, but in the west and south it commands 10 to 12 per cent. This is partly the result of an inadequate and faulty banking system. To provide a remedy is now one of the chief aims of the sound money movement.—Sound Money.

one-ninth of the silver dollars we have coined can be kept about and in use as money. All the rest are stacked up in the treasury and are, therefore, of no value or of value than was the bullion from which they were stamped. Not a single nation that has abandoned the free coinage of silver shows the least disposition to retract its steps.

The general consensus of enlightened opinion all over the world is that silver has outlived its usefulness as a full money metal and will in the future be employed only as subsidiary coinage. It is too bulky and cumbersome and of too unmarketable value to serve the larger needs of the world's commerce. To go back to silver coin for the settlement of trade balances would be as stupid as to abandon railroad transportation and return to carts and wagons.

The silver men would be wise to lay politics aside and face the facts of the situation. If your bank pays your $100 check in silver, you cannot get the money to your store or office without lifting a hundred. This kind of money is not fit for the large and quick transactions of modern business. It would be a hindrance, not a help, to the making of exchanges. The world has outgrown it and beyond it, and no clamor of the politicians will avail to restore it to its old place as "money of ultimate redemption." The silver men, in keeping up their agitation, are only kicking against the solid wall of the world's combined common sense.

We shall continue to use silver for half dollars, quarters and dimes, because it is the best material for these small coins, but for this purpose we have silver bullion and silver dollars in the treasury sufficient to last for 500 years. The government will not again be a purchaser of silver, and no other country is at all likely to enter the market as a buyer. Silver mine owners will be fortunate if their product does not continue to decline until it reaches the lowest figure at which it can be produced at the best mines, with a small margin of profit. There will be no remonetization and no international agreement to put up the price.—Sound Money.

They say we haven't done anything for silver. I tell you one thing, the government has kept the silver dollar worth one dollar.
At another thing, Uncle Sam has a corner eight feet wide, ten feet high and 1250 feet long, and it is crowded and filled to the top with silver. There is stave, because the people don't want it, and won't take it.—Hon. Leslie M. Shaw.

Is There a Farmer So Foolish?
Say, boys, a'posen you change the clock. That free silver pack seems to be about played out. Why not try a wheelbarrow. If we can raise the value of ounces of silver to that of about 40 ounces of silver, without the aid or consent of any other nation on earth, why can't we raise the price of wheat to two dollars a bushel without the aid or consent of any other nation on earth, without consulting the foreign market quotations, and without bothering about silver. And if we can thus raise the price of wheat, why not of corn and potatoes, and eggs, and every thing else we want raised. All we have to do is to get in our slack and make the raise. "What have we to do with abroad?"
